2012 Central Division Tournaments at Illini Elite

Come join us in Central Illinois! The 2012 Central Division Tournament dates are listed below. Our tournaments are all open events insured with the JVA so all teams are welcome, regardless of affiliation (USAV, JVA, AAU, etc.). All matches are played at the Illini Elite Training Center in Bloomington, Illinois. Our facility is less than two hours from most of the Chicago suburbs (even closer for the southwest/western suburbs) and about an hour north of Springfield (it's an easy drive up or down I-55). Our tournaments provide great competition for clubs looking to fill their schedules without a great deal of expense and travel. We provide 1st officials for all of our tournament matches and we have a number of two-day events to choose from. We offer great tournament play and competition at a great value. We hope to see you and your teams at Illini Elite this season!

2012 Central Division Youth Tournaments at Illini Elite

Below you will find the youth tournaments and leagues at Illini Elite for the 10U/11U/12U and 13U/14U age groups. Due to the IESA school season for the junior high players in Central Illinois and other areas of the state, our Central Division dates start in April after the IESA junior high school volleyball season is complete. Just as our high school events, the youth tournaments are all open events insured with the JVA so all teams are welcome, regardless of affiliation (USAV, JVA, AAU, etc.). As always, we will provide 1st officials for all league and tournament matches.

We will not have our usual "Warm-up (Play Day)" event in early April because Easter falls on April 8th this year. Just like last year, you can now sign up for individual dates in the league or sign up for all of them and receive a discount and the same "league" type experience as in years past. New this year, we hope to have a 10U division with modified game play and scoring for the beginning players. We hope to see you this spring!
